

Momentive Performance Materials Introduces Rizobacter as New Distributor for Silwet* Adjuvant in Argentina

ALBANY, N.Y., March 22, 2010 — Momentive Performance Materials today announced that Rizobacter has been selected as the new distributor for its Silwet* Adjuvant in Argentina. The announcement underscores Momentive's commitment to continuing to expand its agriculture business in the Latin America region.

"We are very pleased that Rizobacter will be distributing our Silwet adjuvant in Argentina, which is undoubtedly one of the most important countries for agriculture worldwide," said Marcos Belle, Regional Marketing, Momentive. "Through this relationship, we will be able to offer stronger and more robust technical support to our Argentine customers, as well as extensive coverage, thanks to Rizobacter's knowledge of the market and its outstanding delivery capabilities."

With superior spreading performance at lower concentrations relative to many other commercial surfactants, Silwet adjuvant offers the potential for lower spray application rates and enhanced efficacy. Silwet adjuvant is compatible with a number of agrochemical products typically yielding overall better spreading and uptake.
